Statement of H. J. Palzer, Esq., in reference to his interview with Mr. Arthur Applegate at his home in West Mantoloking, New Jersey.

MR. PALZER: We called at the Applegate home in West Mantoloking and found there Mr. and Mrs. Applegate and their two children.

Mr. Applegate was not inclined to talk and stated positively that he did not want to make any statement. For this reason I thought it inadvisable to have any statement taken stenographically.

Applegate has a strain of religious fanaticism, although it does not affect his recollection of events or his state of mind. He is uneducated, of the laborer type. It was quite evident from what he said that he has been bull-dozed and intimidated by Simpson and his
